Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the photograph of Figure 1 must show the features described (not much is discernible therefrom) or the subject matter canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.
2. This patent contains what appears to be at least one black and white photograph. Color photographs will be accepted if the conditions for accepting color drawings and black and white photographs have been satisfied. See 37 CFR 1.84(b)(2).

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-28 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,719,133. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the present are broad enough to encompass that subject previously claimed effectively extending that subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Intini (Patent no. 5,575,399). A storage container is disclosed comprising a lid 14 and a base 12. The relative dimension of the base compared to user's hand to receive a disc. Some mini discs appear to be about half the size of the base. As shown in figures 2 and 6 a front portion of the lid wall comprises a recess 46. The storage container further comprises a tab 40 including a first portion attached to the base and a second portion extending within the recess when the storage container is closed, see figure 6a.

As to claim 25, the force required to disengage the latch to open the storage container is greater than a force required to engage the latch to close the storage container based upon the disclosure of the present specification. The taper of the tab 40 glides over an interlocking surface 48 akin to the present disclosure where it is manifestly evident force required to disengage the latch to open the storage container is greater than a force required to engage the latch to close the storage container.

As to claims 26 and 27, a hinge panel 36 is shown in figures 8 and 9 comprising a first end pivotally coupled to a second portion of the lid and second end pivotally coupled to a second portion of the base panel.

As to claim 28, a first closing member 12 comprising a first panel 24 and peripheral wall defined by members 22, 24. The first closing member comprising a detent member 58. A second closing member 14 has a second panel 26 and peripheral wall including an aperture 64 having a catch member 66 to receive and lock with the detent member 58, see figure 5. A hinge panel 36 comprises a first end pivotally coupled to a second portion of the lid and second end pivotally coupled to a second portion of the base panel.

As to claim 14

REPLY BY APPLICANT OR PATENT OWNER TO THIS OFFICE ACTION

7. “In order to be entitled to reconsideration or further examination, the applicant or patent owner must reply to every ground of objection and rejection in this Office action. The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. The applicant’s or patent owner’s reply must appear throughout to be a bona fide attempt to advance the application or the reexamination proceeding to final action. A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. The reply must be reduced to writing (emphasis added)”, see 37 CFR 1.111 (b) & (c), M.P.E.P. 714.02.

Pointing out specific distinctions means clearly indicating in the written response what features/elements or distinctions have been added to the claim/claims, where support is found in the specification for such recitations and how these features are not shown, taught, obvious or inherent in the prior art.

If no amendments are made to claims as applicant or patent owner believes the claims are patentable without further modification, the reply must distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the examiner’s action and must respond to every ground of objection and rejection in the prior Office Action in the same vain as given above, 37 CFR 1.111 (b) & (c), M.P.E.P. 714.02.

The examiner also points out, due to the change in practice as affecting final rejections, older decisions on questions of prematurity of final rejection or admission of subsequent amendments do not necessarily reflect present practice. “Under present practice, second or any subsequent actions on the merits shall be final, except where the examiner introduces a new ground of rejection that is neither necessitated by applicant’s amendment of the claims nor based on information submitted in an information disclosure statement filed during the period set forth in 37 CFR 1.97(c)” (emphasis mine), see MPEP 706.07(a).
